A New Year Focusing on “God’s Offer of Newness!”

If you were to pick up a Bible concordance on January 1st and look up the word “new,” you would be amazed at the “newness” found in scripture. The word “new” is festooned throughout the Bible. The promise of God is that newness abounds and is ours for the taking. Repeatedly we are promised a new day, a new covenant, a new heart, a new spirit, a new joy, a new life. In life we find ourselves failing, stumbling, falling, sinning and really in need of this newness that God offers us again and again.

For most of us, we celebrate a New Year as an opportunity to start over, to put the difficulty of a former year behind us and start fresh! Yet, to start new, or start fresh or to journey in a new direction takes courage, and it takes faith. Whether committing to small disciplines or life-changing decisions, it takes courage, commitment, and faith. Whatever newness you seek in 2022, read the following scriptures:

- He did the same with the cup after supper, saying, “This cup is the new covenant written in my blood, blood poured out for you.” Luke 22:20
- “Let me give you a new command: Love one another. In the same way I loved you, you love one another. John 13:34
- But now, by dying to what once bound us, we have been released from the law so that we serve in the new way of the Spirit, and not in the old way of the written code. Romans 7:6
- Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has gone, the new has come! 2 Cor. 5:17
- But in keeping with his promise we are looking forward to a new heaven and a new earth, the home of righteousness. 2 Peter 3:13
- And now, dear lady, I am not writing you a new command but one we have had from the beginning. I ask that we love one another. 2 John 1:5
- He who was seated on the throne said, “I am making everything new!” Rev. 21:5

Galleries at First Pres Celebrates 5th Anniversary

The Galleries at First Pres will offer an opening reception of the Fifth Anniversary Art Show on Sunday, January 23, 2022, from 2:00 to 4:00pm. The show will feature the works of local artists Cy Rochon, Pat Traver, and Anne Whitney. The galleries are located throughout the campus of First Presbyterian Church at 520 Royal Palm Boulevard in Vero Beach. Admission is free; light refreshments will be provided.

Cy Rochon (one of his featured watercolor works, "Cracker House", is pictured to the right) was the sole fine arts educator in a small Massachusetts high school for nine years before leaving the profession to follow his dream of fixing up old houses and reselling them as a full-time career. This expanded into rentals and more. Being a "cold winter hater", Cy promised himself to relocate in Florida when possible. Beginning in 1977, he and his wife spent many years as snowbirds between Massachusetts and Florida. While in Venice, FL, Cy became enthused about watercolor painting (which he had never done before) after attending a number of demonstrations by talented watercolor artists. That, plus a lot of practice, got him started. Since then, he easily switches back and forth between watercolor and oils as his whim or subject demands. Very recently, Cy has been experimenting with Mixed Media using acrylics, collage and other materials. He says this work has had a "freeing result" on his paintings, which he enjoys.

Patricia (Pat) Traver cultivated a creative vein in early youth. She attended several high schools, including Mount Saint Mary Academy in New York and Lake Worth High School in Florida. In addition to academic courses, she studied several facets of the arts including photography, drawing, painting, ceramics, sculpture and art history. Encouraged to attend collage by her teachers, it was not to come to fruition. She decided to assist in the family business due to her father's failing health. Soon married and raising a family, art was left behind and a career as an office manager/bookkeeper ensued for 40 years. Now in retirement, she has returned to her passion, experimenting in many mediums. Her current favorites are oils and colored pencils. After attending several painting workshops under the tutelage of Victor Liguori, she has reinvented herself as a successful artist. Her works are in private collections in New York, Vermont and Florida. She has exhibited at the Lock 5 Studio, Mimosa and Saunders Gallery of Fine Art in New York.

Faces have always held Anne Whitney's interest. As a child, she found faces in everything from clouds to the grain of wood on a table. She enrolled in private art classes in the seventh grade and her love of art continued from there. She went on to become an art teacher, beginning her career in New Jersey. In 1982, she moved to Vero Beach where she became the art instructor at St. Edward's School until her retirement in 2014. Now, a happily retired Anne enjoys the time and space to explore her talents. "Finding movement and energy in the model or composition is the most liberating, fun part of the process", says Anne. She feels strongly that artists should be allowed to stray from the "hard and fast rules" and use their creativity to their advantage in the process toward a meaningful conclusion. This past year and a half, all the live models and art groups disbanded and so Anne entered her studio to paint dogs, cats, siblings, grandchildren, and flowers for free. Most have been from photos. Many have gone to their respective recipients except for a few that will be featured in the current show. Anne looks forward to getting back to larger, bolder, and more experimental paintings with more abstract characteristics.

The Galleries at First Pres feature a wide variety of works by local artists, on rotation throughout the year. They are open for viewing from 12pm to 3pm Monday through Thursday, and on Sunday mornings between church services. Admission is free and open to the community.

Reading with Children at Dodgertown Elementary School

We need volunteers to read with 2nd grade children at Dodgertown Elementary School. The teachers are desperate for readers. I was amazed at how anxious they were for us to return to their classrooms. Last year was a difficult year for the teachers and students. The current 2nd graders are behind in their reading skills. Our presence will truly make a difference, as many of these children crave individual attention and need more caring adults in their lives. I hope we can be a blessing again for them!

If you have been a Dodgertown Reading Volunteer before, you may begin volunteering at any time. The teachers will work out a schedule with you and welcome you any day of the week! Below are the names of the 2nd grade teachers, their room numbers, and their availability.

Ms. Anglin, room 213, 2:25pm to 3:15pm
Ms. Morgan, room 210, 9:15am to 9:45am and 2:25pm to 2:55pm
Ms. Page, room 209, 2:25pm to 3:15pm
Ms. Marginean, room 212, 2:25pm to 2:55pm

- 1) Remember you will need to report to the main office to become a registered volunteer.
- 2) Pick up a school calendar.
- 3) Work out a day that is best for you and the teacher.
- 4) You can switch teachers at any time or even choose more than one!
- 5) You can start as soon as school is back in session.

If you have not been a reading volunteer but would like to be, please contact me and I will meet you personally at the school to get you started. Please email or call me if you have questions.

A Special Note of Thanks

To Our Church Family:

These few words cannot adequately express our profound gratitude for your presence in our lives. Your thoughts, prayers, visits, cards, emails, delicious meals, beautiful floral arrangements and Incredible Edibles have lightened our days and made Sandy's confinement tolerable! Thank you, thank you, thank you! And to our church staff--How can we say thank you for your presence at the hospital, holding a hand and incredible hugs. We are blessed. First Presbyterian Church is surely a church that loves and cares for its people. From the bottom of our hearts, we can only say: "We love you!"

Thank You!

Profiles of Presbyterian Women's New Leadership: Sue Coffey and Debbie Lindsey

by Ann Faunce

Sue and Debbie will be our new Co-Moderators for Presbyterian Women and will be installed on January 8th. Many of us are very excited to have these ladies step forward! And we are very grateful to Cecily Strang and Floy Turner for their efforts in the difficult years of COVID. As Sue says, "this coming year is an opportunity for Presbyterian Women and the timing is right for our ladies to come and participate and give back. There are a lot of women for us to get to know. And we look forward to our service to the Lord."

Sue Coffey grew up in Plainfield NJ. Her family attended Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church. She went to Pembroke College a part of Brown University. Sue met her husband Mickey in high school and they have been married 61 years. They have 3 wonderful daughters, and family life was a pleasure. Mickey's job with Campbell Soup Company took them to many locations, but in 1978, they returned to NJ and lived in Morristown, where Sue became very active in the Presbyterian Church on the Green, an historic church, where George Washington worshiped. Sue ran the Calico Bazaar, which was like our Christmas Tree Lane. She also served as a deacon and an elder there. In 1973, Sue's parents came to Vista Harbor and when Sue and Mickey visited Vero Beach they loved it here. The Coffeys decided to come on retirement. Sue has been very active at First Presbyterian Church. She was Secretary for PW for 3 years and was in charge of the Candy Cane Cafe for Christmas Tree Lane. She told Mickey she needed to do more! Carol Marks asked her to be a deacon; she has been moderator for the last two years. Her term has just finished but she is staying on to complete an unexpired term. Sue also enjoys playing in the Bell Choir. Mickey and Sue both enjoy golf. Mickey is a Rules official for Florida State Golf Association, and they both have been USGA Course Raters. Sue loves to walk and read and decorate their home. Her favorite Bible verse is 1 Corinthians 12:4-6 "Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit; and there are varieties of service, but the same Lord; and there are varieties of activities, but it is the same God who activates all of them in everyone." And Sue's God sent Bible verse leads us immediately to Debbie Lindsey.

And Sue's God sent Bible verse leads us immediately to Debbie Lindsey.

Debbie and John Lindsey are new members of FPC. Debbie is excited about serving and getting to know our ladies. And she is hoping to share ideas from other Churches they have served. One of their homes was in Indialantic FL where they attended the Eastminster Presbyterian Church. Debbie organized the Wednesday night dinners...shopping and cooking for over 100 people! She was also in a Small Group study with Jan Dearman! And many of us know Jan as a retired missionary and daughter of Barbara and John Dearman! There are no coincidences in God's World! Debbie grew up in a Christian home in Washington state. After high school she joined the Army and was trained as an X-Ray technician. On the flight to Hawaii she sat beside John who had joined the Navy and was trained as a middle technician on a nuclear submarine. John forgot his meal ticket and Debbie shared her meal! Several days later he showed up at her barrack and they dated a year and were married. John received his electrical engineering degree with hopes of becoming an Airline Pilot. Debbie suggested since he liked helping people why not go into medicine. And that is what John did! He is an anesthesiologist at the Cleveland Clinic in Vero Beach! During all the years of their marriage they have lived in many places. John has been on 4 mission trips to the Philippines with Operation Smile, three mission trips to Ecuador. Debbie and their daughter and son joined on one trip and visited the Galápagos Islands afterwards. Debbie and John are living in Grand Harbor and already have become involved in golf and boating. Debbie is also active with Audubon and has learned how to manage a beehive! She enjoys reading and has joined Joan Irvine leading the Book Club. They were introduced to FPC by Nancy and Kip Forlines. Debbie's favorite Bible verse is Isaiah 41:10 "So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand."

Christmas Tree Lane 2021: That's a wrap!

This year's Christmas Tree Lane, held under perfect weather, had an amazing turnout and raised an even more amazing $16,000 for PW's local missions! We wish to thank all those members and friends who donated Unique Boutique items and baked/pantry goods, our talented sewers, quilters, and artisans, and to the raffle donors who added so much to the festivities of the day. The Presbyterian Women's Board will soon be distributing these funds -- the best part of doing God's work. Special thanks to Shirley Douglas, our treasurer, who spent untold hours working for us.

God bless all!

Florida Sheriff's Youth Ranches Received $400 Donation

On Tuesday, December 14th, the First Presbyterian Men's Fellowship presented a $400.00 donation to the Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches. The check was presented to donor relations officer Debi Girard, and Indian River County Sheriff Eric Flowers at the Men's weekly breakfast meeting. These funds will benefit troubled youth in IRC. The Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches, located throughout Florida in seven locations, serve at-risk youths. The mission of the Florida Sheriffs Youth Ranches is to prevent delinquency and develop lawful, resilient, and productive citizens.

The First Presbyterian Men's Fellowship has raised funds through the annual car show that is held in early November each year, as well as the annual Sweetheart dinner where the women of the church are honored each February. The Men's fellowship also provides donations to local non-profit charities, along with our FPC Youth Orchestra and children's ministries.

All are welcome to attend the weekly breakfast meeting on Tuesdays at 7:30am. The meetings are held at CJ Cannon's restaurant at the Vero Beach Airport. Our speakers usually involve the issues of the day, and good, caring fellowship. Please join us!

Glenn Conn: Corpsman to the Men at First Presbyterian

By Stanford Erickson

Glenn Marlin Conn, president of First Presbyterian Church Men's Fellowship, committed his life to Jesus Christ when he was 13. Being wounded in a fire fight as a Naval Corpsman in Vietnam, along with the loss of his wife of 25 years, helped consolidate his acceptance of Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior of his life. "I always tried to do what's best," Glenn says. "But looking back, often it was what I thought was best for me - not what God necessarily thought was best for me."

Most at First Presbyterian refer to him as Glenn. His family and his second wife Kim refer to him as Marlin, because his father's name was Glenn as well. His father was a WWII veteran, having been wounded and receiving a Bronze Star. Born in Latrobe, PA, in 1948 and raised in even a smaller town northeast of Pittsburgh, Glenn at 19 joined the U.S. Navy because he did not want to be drafted and sent to Vietnam as an Army infantryman. After six months of training in nursing healthcare at the Naval Hospital in San Diego, he was sent to Camp Pendleton in California for an eight week course in Field Medical Service School. "I was taught not only how to care for U.S. Marine war casualties, but trained to be qualified in using 45, M1, and M16 rifles," he says. "Next stop was a six-month tour in Vietnam in 1969 with First Marines, 5th Battalion. On November 10th of that year, the U.S. Marine Corp birthday, a bullet shattered my left radius arm bone along with shrapnel, some of which I still have, logged into my thigh and backside." Medevacked to Guam and then to the States, it took a few months for Glenn to be healed and then reassigned to Long Beach where he met his first wife, Suzanne, who also served in the U. S. Navy. If he re-enlisted in the Navy, he probably would have been sent to Vietnam again.

A civilian again, Glenn began working as a post operative surgical nurse for open heart patients at St. Vincent's medical center in Los Angeles. To make additional money, he performed physicals part-time for potential clients of insurance companies. "The insurance sales reps encouraged me to go into sales," he says. "They said the money was better than my jobs in healthcare and that people seemed to like and trust me, which is essential in sales." As a sales rep and sales manager for the next 40 years, Glenn traveled all over the United States, Europe and the Middle East. Probably Glenn's most interesting sales job was selling avionics test equipment for Quantum Data.

Glenn and his first wife, Suzanne, have four children: Charlotte, Carrie, Michael and Adam. Three of their children have served in the Navy and two have recently retired after 20 plus years. Sadly, Suzanne died of breast cancer when she was 48. Glenn met Kim later on. "My wife Kim knew my mother and my sister," Glenn says. "My mother invited Kim to our family's July 4th picnic at her home in Pennsylvania. I don't think Kim was initially attracted to me, but she noticed I had a Honda Goldwing motorcycle and asked if I could take her riding." Kim and Glenn have now been married 23 years. "When we married, my two sons were still at home and Kim dutifully jumped in helping to raise the boys. She is the biggest blessing in our lives."

As a salesman for avionics, Glenn used to call on Piper Aircraft in Vero Beach as well as other military contractors in Florida. Often, Kim would join him for a week's vacation and then back to the chilly winters of Ohio. When Glenn got close to retirement, Kim suggested Vero Beach and not the cold winters of the north. "We tried several churches in Vero Beach. First Presbyterian seemed too big for us. But our neighbors were Patti and David Frantz, longtime members of the church. Patti was really persistent, and soon Kim and I became members in 2013. We have found that Senior Pastor Dr. G. Timothy Womack is correct when he says that First Presbyterian is big in programs, but ultimately we are a small, close-knit congregation that cares for one another."

Glenn has served as a Deacon for three years, and has been President of First Presbyterian Men's Fellowship for the last five years. The Men meet each Tuesday morning for breakfast at C J Cannon's restaurant at the Vero Beach Airport between 7:30 and 9:00 am. Under Glenn's leadership, the Men's Fellowship has raised money for various worthwhile local nonprofits, puts on an annual Valentine's Sweethearts Dinner for the ladies of the church and has held several revenue-raising Classic Car shows.
